

DISCOVER WHAT'S POSSIBLE WHEN YOUR PLAN IS BASED ON PEOPLE, NOT SERIAL NUMBERS.

You are more than a serial number to us. That's why we are retiring our plans based on serial numbers and launching new plans based on people. Starting 7 May 2020, you will be able to trade in your maintenance plan or multi-user subscription at a cost consistent with what you pay today.

10 REASONS our shift to plans centred around people instead of serial numbers is the best way to discover what's possible.

This is only the beginning. Expect a far more relevant user experience – more efficient collaboration, more constructive insights and more time-saving convenience. It all starts here when you transition to named user plans.

- 1 The named user model is a better fit for today's business practices, streamlining administrative work.
- 2 New plan options provide a range of administrative, support, control and reporting to fit the size and needs of your business.
- 3 You can see your usage data and determine in the future who on your team needs dedicated or flexible access.
- 4 You have 1:1 software access, so your employees always have the tools they need when they need them, avoiding downtime when all licences are in use.
- 5 You can view usage frequency by product and version, allowing you to optimise your licensing costs.
- 6 In the future, you will get insights to analyse collaboration data and find new ways to make your team more productive.
- 7 Replace the need for tracking serial numbers with an efficient cloud-based licence management approach.
- 8 Security features, such as two-factor authentication in a standard plan or single sign-on in a premium plan, keep your design data safe.
- 9 TRADE-IN OFFERS
If you have a network maintenance plan or multi-user subscription, at your first renewal only, after 7 May 2020, trade in one seat for two standard subscriptions for one named user each.
